Montana Congressman Saved
by Police From Mob at Jersey City Rally, Wife Injured

Angry Mob

Faced Angry Mob, but Will Return "Maybe on Witness Stand"

Jersey City, N. J., May 28 (AP).—Rep. Jerry O'Connell, frustrated in a second attempt to speak in Mayor Frank Hague's ballroom, and rescued by police from a rioting pro-Hague crowd, said today he would return—perhaps to make my speech from the witness stand in federal court.

The Montana Democrat's attractive blonde wife—nursing bruised legs and skinned knees—said she suffered when knocked down in the cursing crowd's surge upon her husband—declared she'd be at his side when he came back.

Spirited last night into the ballroom of the vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee, the bald-headed "boy congressman" walked unnoticed along with an ever-waiting procession of Hague cohorts bound for an open-air meeting called to "keep Jerry O'Connell the hell out of here."

Between two lines of closely-formed police O'Connell walked, still unrecognized, into an anti-riot field crowd estimated by police at between 10,000 and 15,000. Director of Public Safety Daniel Casey said 550 officers were on duty.

When he halted as if to speak—flouting the city's refusal to give him a permit—the shouted encouragements of a handful of supporters, who espied him first, were drowned in a bedlam of curses and shrieks of "kill him" as a thousand Hague supporters rushed him from all sides. Police formed a protective ring and took a lot of punches aimed at him.

No Arrests
"Not a soul hit me," O'Connell said, but Captain John S. Sunnot got a bruised eye and Chief Harry Walsh said he was hit on the jaw. Police said there were no arrests.

The police battled a way through the crowd for O'Connell and whisked him to the nearest precinct station in a squad car. Not under arrest, he was held for 15 minutes in a backroom with police officials and then taken in a police car to a railroad station and placed aboard a train for Newark.

He said in an interview at a Newark hotel that he would return here soon to continue his fight on Hague, who, he said, denied free speech in this city of 315,000 people.

If his congressional duties permitted, he said, he would be in Federal Judge William Clark's testimony for the CIO, American Civil Liberties Union and affiliated groups in their litigation for an injunction against Hague and his fellow officials from alleged interference with their activities. O'Connell, in Newark, contended the majority of the crowd was "sympathetic" toward him, and he charged he had been "very brutally handled" by police at the field. Casey quickly denied this and said the congressman "told me I want to thank you for saving my life."

New Federal Law Revises Business Taxes After July 1

Group of "Nuisance Taxes"
Are Wiped Out—Only
New Excise Tax
on Liquor

Washington, May 28 (AP)—The new federal tax law which became effective last midnight wipes out a group of "nuisance taxes" and revises business taxes.

On July 1, the treasury will stop collecting these taxes:

Tooth paste, soaps, and other toilet articles, 5 per cent; furs, 3 per cent; phonograph records, 5 per cent; sporting goods, 10 per cent; cameras and lenses, 10 per cent; chewing gum, 2 per cent; matches, 3 cents per thousand on plain wooden and one-half cent per thousand on paper matches.

The only new excise tax will be an increase, also on July 1, from $2 to $2.25 per gallon on newly manufactured liquor.

The revised income tax laws, including provisions dealing with undistributed profits and capital gains, apply to 1938 income, upon which returns must be filed by March 15, 1939.

These changes, in brief: Individual income—No changes in rates or coverage except as to capital gains.

The new law includes in ordinary income all of capital gains realized in less than 18 months, minus similar capital losses, and permits excess of 18 month losses over gains to be carried over to following year; includes in ordinary income two-thirds of capital gains taken in from 18 to 24 months, with maximum tax rate on these gains of 20 per cent and permission to credit excess capital losses against other income; includes in ordinary income, half of the capital gains realized in more than 24 months with maximum tax rate of 15 per cent and permission to credit excess losses against other income.

Corporation income—Old law provided normal tax on profits of 8 to 15 per cent on undistributed profits. New law provides single tax of 12 1/2 to 16 per cent on profits of corporations earning less than $25,000 in year; intermediate rates on corporations close to the $25,000 line; flat tax of 19 per cent on profits of larger corporations, less credit of 2 1/2 per cent of amount of profits distributed to stockholders, thus making 16 1/2 per cent minimum tax on corporation distributing all profits.

The soldiers of President Lazaro Cardenas, beating back and forth through the brush-covered hills, declared the capture of Cedillo himself was imminent.

A high army officer expressed the belief Cedillo would attempt to escape the net by working northward toward the United States.

Observers at the scene said that with capture of Cedillo his eight-day rebellion would collapse quickly.

His two fast transport planes had fallen into government hands.

Thinning G. A. R. Boys Await Memorial Day

Albany, N. Y., May 28 (AP).—The dwindling ranks of the one-time Boys in Blue awaited today one of their few remaining Memorial Days to pay quiet homage to the comrades fallen in battle and to the many more felled by time.

The roster of New York's Grand Army of the Republic numbered little more than 200 Union veterans left to take part in the annual exercises Monday.

Glancing over the list of soldiers who fought for the north in the War of 1861-65, Miss Bernice Case, secretary of the State's G. A. R. Department, expected that "only a handful" of the survivors would take active part in the services.

Last year, the G. A. R. roster showed 289 veterans left in New York state. Last January 1, the list had narrowed down to 224. Deaths since then have lowered the number, Miss Case believes, to approximately 205.

Heavy Traffic as Holiday Begins in Metropolitan Area

Auto traffic through Kingston this morning was very heavy and was gradually increasing in size due to the fact that today was the first day of the three-day holiday.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood realizing that holiday traffic would be heavy, arranged to have a traffic officer on duty at the entrance to the Rondout Creek Bridge, another at Broadway and East Chester street, and a third at Broadway and Henry street. He also arranged to have traffic officers elsewhere when needed.

The West Shore railroad also planned on heavy holiday traffic to the mountain resorts, and special trains were scheduled for today and heavier bookings were reported by the Greyhound and Short Line busses. The Hudson River Day Line also anticipated heavier travel by steamer by reason of the holiday.

It was expected that north-bound traffic would reach its peak late tonight, and that the south-bound traffic would be extremely heavy Monday afternoon and night.

Speeder Fined $10.

Stanley Sabatino of New York city, arrested on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour on East Chester street, was fined $10 in police court this morning by Judge Cahill. A fine of $3 was imposed on Frank Farrell of New York, arrested on a charge of public intoxication.

Grave Anxieties Face Czechs; 2nd Group Will Vote

President Bene's 54th Birthday Celebrated Amid a Heavy Tension of Voting Over Week-end

Prague, Czechoslovakia, May 28 (AP).—The Czechoslovakia public bravely flaunted the national colors of blue, white and red in the face of an uncertain future today in observance of President Eduard Bene's 54th birthday.

All admitted there were grave anxieties behind the gay flags—the steady internal pressure of 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans, the majority led by the Nazi Fuehrer Konrad Henlein demanding sweeping autonomous powers and supported by powerful Germany.

The principal newspapers which editorially eulogized President Bene as one of the founders of the war-born republic published prominently a Berlin dispatch to the effect that Chancellor Adolf Hitler conferred yesterday with his top military chiefs.

Others emphasized the Czech government's refusal to withdraw any troops from the border region "so long as the situation is unchanged."

Uppermost in everyone's mind was what this week-end would bring, when another 2,740 communities go to the polls on Sunday. At least 700 of the communities are predominately German.

It was taken for granted that Henlein's Sudeten German party would poll close to 90 per cent of the votes in the 700 German communities.

Prague was crowded with war correspondents. Some were veterans of the Ethiopian episode and of the fighting in China. Others had hurried from Spain where the horrors of war had become commonplace and state.

There was no "peace at any price" tendency visible, either in the Czech or Sudeten German camps, but dispatches from Berlin told of the abrupt cessation, as if by order, of violent blasts in the German press against Czech "provocations."

Memorial Rites Here on Sunday, Parade on Monday

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock memorial services will be held in the municipal auditorium with the address delivered by the Rev. Malachy O'Leary of Sagerties, in which veterans of all wars, patriots and fraternal organizations will participate.

The Memorial Day parade will be held at 11 o'clock Monday morning. The line of march will be from Broadway and Delaware avenue to Academy Park, opposite the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Vocational School Gets Approval of State Department

New Building Will Not Exceed $45,000; Bids Will Be Received Until June 6 in Changed Schedule

Reports Heard

Board of Education Hears of Progress on Michael School and Other Matters

Official notification from the State Department was received Friday night by the Board of Education of the approval of plans for the new vocational school building at a cost not to exceed the appropriation of $45,000. At the same time the board extended the time for receiving bids on the job. Advertisements were put out placing the time limit as June 1, but several contractors have asked for an extension of time because of the need for checking prices of materials which are changing rapidly, and in accordance with that request the board voted to extend the time to June 6 when the board will meet in adjourned session and open the bids.

The official approval of the plan of set up of equipment of Architect Gerard Betz was given under date of May 24. Because of an elaborate lay out which was first suggested by the state department which the local board felt was not entirely required here, there was some delay in submitting plans for approval. Numerous schools were visited and the committee finally submitted modified plans for approval of the board and the state department. Since the courses to be taught in the new vocational school must be tied out as to adaptability, and changes may later be found necessary, it was the opinion of the board not to enter the laboratorily on interior set-up at this time. With official approval now received and bids ready on June 6 work on this step in the city's long range school program will shortly be underway.

Education Board Awards Supply Contracts Friday

Bids for various supplies were received by the Board of Education Friday evening and awards made to the low bidder.

Livingston & LeFever were awarded the contract to supply the city schools with paper for the sum of $1,110.55. William O'Reilly received the contract for general supplies for the bid of $2,345.25 and E. Winter's Sons received the library book award for the sum of $1,171.23.

On motion of Trustee Hutton the low bidder was given each contract.

Bids as follows were received: Paper, Livingston & LeFever, $1,110.55; The Hardinburg Company, $1,309.00; William O'Reilly, $1,137.04.

General supplies, William O'Reilly, $2,345.25; The Hardinburg Company, $2,399.00.

Library books, E. Winter's Sons, $1,171.23; William O'Reilly, $1,178.38.

The Supplies Committee was authorized to purchase text books direct from the publishers.

Will Secure Bids

Trustee Katz for the Supplies Committee also reported that the committee was ready to proceed with the securing of bids for the equipment at the Myron J. Michael School. He said arrangements were being made to have samples of equipment displayed for inspection at various times. Lockers will be on display on June first and other equipment will come in later. The board authorized the committee to proceed with the solicitation of bids. The equipment to be selected will be designated after the board as a whole examines samples and makes a selection.

The question of local firms submitting bids for this equipment came up. It was the opinion of the board that many local firms had a contract with the manufacturer and in an instance where the manufacturer made a bid direct, the manufacturer naturally would be lower than the local firm could place for the equipment, that the manufacturer would usually protect the local agent so far as commissions were concerned.

It was stated that in the past where a local firm represented a manufacturer and that manufacturer had been successful in getting a contract that the local firm was given a specified commission on the equipment even though the bid was figured direct by the manufacturer.

This matter was discussed at some length and it was finally decided that bids should be open to all and not confined to local agencies.

Senators Disagree Aged West Esopus On Further Action Resident Is Found For TVA Inquiry Dead, Blame Fall

Norris Finds Nothing New in Morgan Statement; King
Wants Further Action Taken

Washington, May 28 (AP)—Senators Norris (Ind., Rep.) and King (D., Utah) disagreed today on whether the statement given by a congressional investigation committee by Dr. Arthur L. Morgan, ousted chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, warranted further inquiry into the agency.

Norris said he had studied the statement and found nothing "surprising or new" or worthy of further investigation.

On the other hand, King said he thought Morgan's statement lent credence to the view that the policy back of TVA had been one of "laying the foundation for the absorption by the federal government of all utilities."

Morgan accused TVA directors Harcourt A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal of mismanagement, conspiracy and making false and misleading reports. They, in turn, charged him with efforts to sabotage and obstruct the TVA program.

Mrs. Mary Siegel Found Lying in Pool of Blood—Officials Investigate to Determine Cause

Mrs. Mary Siegel, 70 year old resident of West Esopus, was found dead, lying at the foot of a stairway in her home, late Friday afternoon. There was a pool of blood near her head.

Although there is a strong probability that Mrs. Siegel met her death as a result of a fall on the stairway, further investigation in different angles of the affair was continued today by Sheriff Molyneux and investigators Metzger and Reynolds of the B. C. I.

Mrs. Siegel's body was found by William McCullough, who is employed about the place. He told the officers that he came in from work about six o'clock and discovered what had happened. Neighbors were informed and James Loughran called Dr. Kenneth LeFever, who notified the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Molyneux, with Deputies McCullough and Brown, went to the Siegel home and Trooper Metzger answered a call to the Highland sub-station of the state police. Coroner Lester D. DuBois of New Paltz was also notified.

50 Men Named

Charges Are for "Stifling and Interfering With Interstate Commerce"

South Bend, Ind., May 28 (AP).—The Big Three of the automobile industry—General Motors Corporation, Ford Motor Corporation and Chrysler Corporation—faced today federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to violate the Sherman anti-trust law as government attorneys, "saluted" in a second attempt for action, planned early trials of the cases.

United States District Attorney James H. Fleming said today he "dealt with the results" of the investigation. They said it was the largest trust investigation since the Standard Oil prosecutions in 1910.

The government had failed in its first attempt to get indictments against the motor companies, a Milwaukee grand jury, making an investigation, was dismissed December 17, 1937.

The charges, contained in three separate indictments, named the three companies, their affiliated finance companies and 50 individuals. All were charged with conspiring to promote monopoly by coercing dealers to finance car sales through the companies' own finance firms.

Each indictment, Fleming said, alleged that the companies conspired toward "stifling and interfering with interstate commerce for promotion of monopoly" and that their action caused "irreparable damage" to small automobile finance companies.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board, and William S. Knudsen, president, were named with 17 other individuals in an indictment against the General Motors Corporation, the Chrysler Corporation, the Chrysler Sales Corporation, Dodge Brothers Company, DeSoto Motor Corporation, the Plymouth Motor Corporation and the Commercial Credit Company and its branches. Walter P. Chrysler, president of the firm, and 17 other individuals were also named.

Grant's to Push Nat'l Cotton Week

Starting May 30, and continuing for one week, the W. T. Grant store on Wall street is co-operating with thousands of other stores throughout the country in promoting National Cotton Week. This is a concerted effort to help the consumption of the large surplus cotton crop.

Not only will the public find it economical to buy cotton goods at the present time, but it will be performing a real service in helping to improve the condition of the cotton farmers and textile workers.

The consumption of the 1934-1935 harvest of 15,750,000 bales of cotton is vital to the prosperity of the whole nation. The "ups" and "downs" of King Cotton are reflected in the standard of living of all America.

Last year the W. T. Grant Co. used approximately 29,000 pounds of cotton in merchandise sold through its stores. During National Cotton Week the Grant Store will offer its customers the finest array of cotton goods values seen in many years.

There were more than 5,000,000 head of cattle shipped out of Texas last year, an increase of 778,000 over 1934.

TOWNSEND PLAN NEWS

No. 11

Many people are saying these days, "Oh, I wish the General Welfare Act of the Townsend Plan would become a law soon." Yet they delay joining a Townsend Club or even attending its meetings to get a correct, intelligent understanding of it. This seems strangely inconsistent. These clubs are working day and night for the success of the Movement.

Just at this time there is a nation-wide "Drive" to add a million new members to the Townsend clubs of the country, which are said to number today over two million members. By 1910 they will have an immense membership, especially if all those anxious for its success join the Townsend clubs. Then both the great political parties will be glad to declare for the immediate passage of the General Welfare Act, H. R. 4199, now pending in Congress.

Any American citizen, 18 years of age or older, can join a Townsend club. Now is the time you are needed. Your delay in joining a club is just delaying the success of the cause that much. Remember this special membership drive ends June 24th. If a million or more new members are added, it will be a tremendous boost for the Movement—one that will stir Congress to prompt action.

Join the Kingston club at once and help double its membership before June 24th. The fee is $1.00 a year, payable at once or in easy payments. Phone the secretary, 3561, give your name and address, and state your wish to join the club.

Amusing yet tragic is the attitude of the enemies of the Townsend Plan today. They denounce the Plan, but not one of them has been able to answer its unanswerable logic. They call the Plan "crazy", "visionary", and "impractical". Then, in their frantic efforts to stem the rising flood-tide of Townsendism, they offer substitutes that are amusingly silly, visionary and impractical. But the great mass of common sense still retained by the average American is slowly burning with indignation, and ere long will be transformed into revolutionary wrath. Then the people will demand the Townsend Plan and accept no substitute.

If you want reliable news about this Movement, get the Townsend Weekly. A number of Kingston newsdealers have it on sale. (5 cts. a copy.)—Advertisement.

Annual Federation Report Given at Final Meeting

At the final meeting of the Y. W. C. A. for the year, the Federation of Women's Clubs of the city for our second year held last Saturday, at which the party, in the late winter. Both organization was disbanded. The clubs were unusually successful in president, Mrs. J. C. Fraser, gave every way.

"During the year the Federation has shown the same spirit of cooperation in civic and philanthropic work as in years past and the Federation of Women's Clubs, which has stood for so much to the history of Kingston, should under this regime, reach such a period of recession, pleasure, that the loyalty of the affiliated clubs and members of the Public Health Committee, was with me to the end of this administration.

The Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs has been for over 20 years an organization for the great good in this community. We have tried in every way, this year, to uphold the interests and standards of past years. No especially meritorious project has been accomplished, due perhaps to the great demands upon the time and purse strings of all members; due perhaps to lack of interest, and due largely to curtailment of funds.

"The Executive Board has met regularly, and executed the work of the organization diligently and well. To them, I am extremely grateful and extend the thanks of the membership.

"Our open meetings have been well attended and the programs much enjoyed. Great praise and gratitude is due Miss Eleanor Easton, Miss Ida Bartlett, and their assistants for the splendid exhibit in cooperation with the state chairman of art, that we observe Art Week. This was in the month of October.

"In January, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, a delicious luncheon was served, it being our annual luncheon meeting. There were about the same number present as in previous years. The speaker was enjoyed, but was much too brief. We were indebted to the Herald Tribune Bureau for Club Women, for sending Capt. Heriot to us. We appreciate all the hard work done by the general chairman, Mrs. A. DuBois Rose, and those who assisted her in decorations and in receiving the guests. The orchid corsages furnished by Miss Florence Cordis were especially beautiful. It being the first time your president ever had had an orchid, she has most happy memories of that occasion.

Today is the final meeting of the year, and I am sure it will be as enjoyable a one as all the others.

"The hostess clubs served tea at each open meeting. Attractive tea tables, were set and delectable sandwiches, cookies, and cakes were served. At the October meeting, Twentieth Century was the hostess club; March, Lowell; May, due to the small membership in Coterie, Sorosis offered to assist.

"At each meeting also, local artists donated their services for our enjoyment. We appreciate their generosity and their talents.

"We are deeply indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Woodstock, for the beautiful display of their art at our exhibit; also the interesting talk given by Mr. Woodstock. "Our thanks is extended to Mrs. H. P. Van Wageningen and Mrs. William Longyear, general chairman, to their helpers to the members and their friends for their generous support and donations to our two money-making projects for the year 'Rockhurst' was opened to us last summer by the owners, Miss Ellen van Slyke and Mrs. Minnie Owens, and a very enjoyable card party was held there. No more beautiful spot could have been found. A letter of thanks was sent to our hostesses, but we wish to reiterate the sentiments. We are grateful also.

"Letters of thanks have been sent to all non-members who have contributed in any way to our help, but I wish to add my personal thanks to them. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Reed, the federation acted as hostess during the Apple Blossom Festival, to those who visited this colonial relic. The federation and its president takes this opportunity to thank Mrs. Reed for the courtesy extended. The number registered exceeded the number of visitors at any other attraction. It was a very worth while project and the federation has a right to feel that it did its share in any success achieved by the Apple Blossom Festival.

"My thanks goes to the officers, to all chairmen and assistants, also to the three newspapers for their generous response to our appeals, to the library board for the use of the room for our executive meetings, to Mr. Gross for the use of the hotel rooms many times, to our speakers, Mr. Mason and Rabbi Bloom; to the artists who gave of their talents; to Mrs. Hoderath and the pupils of the high school who made the posters for our Apple Blossom Festival project; to the clubs for their part in the open meetings, and to all whom I have not especially mentioned, but who have been of any service to me or the federation."

Respectfully submitted, GEORGINA S. FRASER, President.

Mrs. Alida Shultis of Len Court, who will soon leave Kingston to make her home in Rosendale with her son, Albert H. Shultis, was given a farewell party Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. E. D. Chapp on Clinton avenue by the members of the King's Daughters' Sunday School Class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, of which she has been a member for 40 years. Mrs. Shultis is shown with Mrs. P. ## Dr. Sunshine Heard At Y.W. Luncheon

Henry DuBois or "Dr. Sunshine" as his radio listeners know him, addressed two groups at the Y. W. C. A. Friday. The first was a group of 55 women who attended another in a series of the friendship luncheons.

At this meeting, which was arranged by Mrs. John Matthews, Mrs. Leonard Flicker, Mrs. Theron L. Culver and Mrs. Charles Arnold, assisted by Mrs. William Finch, Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, Mrs. C. S. Treadwell and Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, and was presided over by Mrs. G. Newton Wood, Mr. DuBois took his listeners on an aeroplane trip to California.

The imaginary journey was made realistic by his imitations of the noises and sounds heard from the first whirr of the propeller to the noises heard at various places where the party landed for sight-seeing. Mr. DuBois, who is a sound artist also imitated animals, birds and whistled familiar tunes in a pleasing and entertaining manner. The melodies he whistled seemed almost in the same key as the notes of a canary.

The second address was given in the afternoon to a group of Girl Reserves. Here again Dr. Sunshine took his listeners on another imaginary trip although with an entirely different method of presentation.

In private life Mr. DuBois is a salesman, but he uses his talents to bring sunshine to many sick people. At the Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled in New York city, he has provided entertainment regularly for over three years. Every Saturday afternoon a number of the wards are invaded and songs of birds are heard, trips by magic aeroplanes

Queen Olive McDaniel Rules Her Court for a Day in May

Queen Olive McDaniel, a brunette member of the senior class of the Kingston High School, ruled her court as queen for a day at the annual May Day exercises held Wednesday. Although the day for the festivities had been postponed twice due to rainy weather the seniors were rewarded with a sunny, warm day in which to crown their queen.

Above is shown Queen Olive being crowned by the Prime Minister, Joseph Kearney, as her maid of honor, Miss Jane Ball, stands by. Alice Marie Danahy, the pillow bearer, shelters her eyes from the sun so that she, too, may see her queen crowned with the wreath of rose buds. Joan and Jane Van Etten, young cousins of the queen, are holding her train in their laps.

The second picture shows the finish of the chariot races, one of the exciting events of the afternoon. Those boys who are reaching for the finish line as the fair driver urges them ahead, are the representatives of the Junior Class who won the race and were rewarded by being allowed to kiss the hand of the queen.

The Flag of the United States

General rules for the display of the flag of the United States are as follows:

Display from sunrise to sunset. It is universal custom to display the flag from sunrise to sunset on buildings and flagpoles in the open.

Not displayed in inclement weather. Unless there is some special reason for doing so, the flag should not be flown in rainy or stormy weather.

Raising and lowering. The flag should be raised briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously. On Memorial Day, May 30, the flag is flown at half mast until noon in memory of the dead. It is then raised to full mast to signify that the nation still lives.

In raising a flag to half mast it should first be raised to full mast and then lowered; from which position it should be raised to full mast before being lowered. Never to touch the ground. In raising and lowering the flag it must never be allowed to touch the ground.

The flag of the United States is an artistic, well proportioned emblem, whose beauty must not be marred by draping. Draped with blue, white and red bunting—arranged with the blue on top or at the observer's left.

When the flag passes in parade, spectators should stand at attention and salute; men should lift their hats with the right hand and holding it at the left shoulder; women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart.

The American flag represents the unity of our great United States of America.

"Guard well that flag, for Faith and Hope and Better Days to be, Your flag, My flag, the flag that makes men free." Quotation—Kate Browne Sherwood. Let every citizen display our American flag on Memorial Day. Florilla Campbell Safford, Chairman, Correct Use of the flag, Wilkney Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—More than any child star Jackie Cooper has remained active and prominent through those trying years when child stars conventionally disappear from sight. He owes it, probably, to the fact that a movie title was waiting for him, just a little without a story, waiting on an independent movie lot.

At the end of 1936 Jackie was, people thought, at the end of his career. He was getting a wee bit big for crying—Skippy-style—and he wasn't very cute any more.

That was when W. Ray Johnston, who used to be a movie actor himself, but now heads the Monogram company, stepped in with an offer. Jackie's camp wanted twice as much. A year later the camp reconsidered, and Johnston pulled out his title, got a story to fit, and went to work. Jackie got around $12,000 for his four weeks' work, signed a contract for two more pictures—and along about Christmas last year they released "Boy of the Streets."

It Caught On
It wasn't an epic, it wasn't colossal. It just caught on like a fire on a scared California hillside in August; it aroused civic organizations to the endorsing stage; it turned in Naughton has been a regular summer visitor to Shokan for the past several years.

Conin in several local fields has finally made an appearance boy ground two weeks after planting took place. Germination was so slow this year that farmers began to be concerned about the crop. One farmer is reported to have replanted his garden, following failure of the seed to sprout as a result of the dry spell which ended a week ago.

May 25, 1863, the death took place of Gilbert Satterly, father of the late Henry Satterly, whose farm on the hill road to Boiceville is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Foster of Englewood, N. J. Gilbert Satterly was a grandfather of Virgil and Russell Satterly, who removed to Kingston from this section many years ago.

Mrs. A. L. Olson of Brooklyn plans to come here to spend the week-end and holiday with her sons, Norman and Kenneth Olson.

Clement Smith and family, who for the past several months have had their home in the Winchell house on the corner, removed Wednesday to the farm house on the mountain road. This modernized residence on the mountain road has remained unoccupied since it was vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carter two years ago.

The entertainment presented in the village hall Wednesday evening by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Shokan Reformed Church, was attended by a small but interested audience. Fred Van Deusen, well known Kingston magician, was the star entertainer on the program. Other features included piano accordion and guitar solos, also an intelligence quiz in which Roberta Davis and Albert Wirtz tied for first honors. Second prize winners were John Adsit and Charles Personous. Refreshments were placed on sale following the conclusion of the program.

Travel And Tipping Tips For Voyagers To Europe

By JOAN DURIAM.
(AP) Feature Service Writer.

There are four people on the boat you will want to tip, probably a couple more, when you take that trip to Europe.

Your tips may total about $ to 10 per cent of your fare, says Herman Muehlenbrock, passenger traffic manager for one of the large trans-Atlantic steamship lines.

If your passage costs $150, for instance, your total tipping shouldn't run more than $15.

Your room steward and dining room steward should each get about $5. The deck steward should get about $2. The bath steward about $1. The rest will be divided among the smoking room steward, the wine steward, and so on.

Tips are paid at the end of the trip, as a rule.

Before the Party Starts.

Before you start celebrating with well-wishing friends at sailing time, be sure your baggage is on board and you have your stateroom key.

It's also a good idea to hunt up the dining room steward as soon as possible so you will be assigned to a table you like.

You can see the steward about your deck chair after you sail and you can delay making arrangements with the bath steward.

If you have valuables, you'd better have the purser put them in the ship's safe.

Mr. Muehlenbrock lists eight dos and don'ts to help straighten you out on a number of travel problems.

Leave a list of addresses with the people at home with whom you wish to keep in touch.

Take along some soap. Most European hotels don't furnish soap.

Keep Yourself Tagged.

Don't carry much money—use traveler's checks. They're safer and easier to get at.

When you leave a hotel in a strange city to take a stroll or go shopping it's a good idea to write your hotel name and street on a slip of paper and put it into your pocket or bag. Then you can't forget it, and it will be easier to get help in returning, if you should get lost.

Always declare everything you have with you—whether it's dutiable or not. Declare every cent of money, too, when that's asked. Some countries are strict about that.

Register Your Camera.

Be sure to register your camera with the customs authorities so you won't have to pay duty to get it back into this country.

Always hang on to your railroad ticket. In many European countries they are not inspected or collected until you leave the station at your destination.

When you go shopping in foreign countries find out at your hotel what the specialties in that locality are; window shop to see things for yourself; buy in main street shops unless you're sure of out-of-the-way places, and keep your sales slips—they'll help you in customs.

Costumes For Brides This June Have Long Trains, Short Veils

By ADELAIDE KERR
(AP) Fashion Editor

Brides of 1938 are seeking novelty in their wedding costumes.

Dress-makers who have gownned some of the year's most famous brides say they never knew a season when so many tried to be different.

It's largely a difference in accessories and attendants' costumes, however. White or ivory gowns, trains and veils will still be in the lead when those glamorous wedding pageants begin to move down flower-banked aisles this June.

But there is news in the way in which that traditional wedding paraphernalia is handled. Sheer gowns of silk, tulle, marquisette and lace are in favor this year, though a number of the most fashionable spring brides have clung to the satin.

One Set Above Another.

Many are inspired by period silhouettes—the lines of the Gibson Girl's high-necked frock or of a Winterhalter belle's off-shoulder gown. Their skirts are often very full and frequently cummerbund one set over another. One of the newest white net gowns has little silver love birds tucked to the second skirt so that they shimmer through the net.

Trains are very long and veils short, unless a bride insists on a train-length veil for an elaborate church wedding. Even those are generally topped by a short one, however, so that the bride may have that airy, fluttering flutter around her face.

Color lends novelty to this year's wedding pageants. A number of June brides will walk to the altar in gowns of pale pink or pale heaven blue with attendants costumed in the same shades. A Boston bride chose mist gray tulle for her bridal gown and dressed her attendants in vivid American beauty fairs.

Pale Pink To Deep Rose.

Warren Pershing's bride selected heaven blue satin frocks and apple blossom bouquets for her bridesmaids in contrast to her own ivory satin gown, while a white-robed bride from the south put her attendants in frocks which shaded from palest pink to deep rose.

More innovations are noticeable in flowers, says Irene Hayes, who has designed the wedding bouquets for some of America's most beautiful brides. This year color adds spice, garden flowers are combined with hot house blooms, and both are handled in intriguing ways. Bouquets are not so large and almost no foliage is used.

One recent New York bride carried a bouquet of parchment roses rimmed with iris petals, another a white tulle fan covered with orange blossoms and a third a bouquet of lilacs and orchids fringed with tulle.

Regardless of novelty, however, most of this year's brides strive for one result in their wedding costumes—an effect of demureness and youth.

RADIANT RUFFLING
Many gowns for the June bride are sheer. This one of white silk marquisette is designed with a demure high-necked bodice and a long train trimmed with eighty yards of ruffling. An old-fashioned bouquet reflects both the spirit of the frock and the 1938 fashion in bridal fashions.

This Summer We'll Go.. Er.. Ah Why Not A Vacation At Home

By BETTY CLARKE
(AP) Feature Service Writer.

If the family pocketbook won't stand the strain of a Scandinavian cruise this summer, and you can't even find a way to go to the mountains or seashore for two weeks, you have lots of company.

A vast proportion of America's 130,000,000 inhabitants are in the same plight, as usual, and what are they going to do about it?

If they are intelligent people, they will arrange "at-home" vacations.

The more you can be outdoors the better, as long as you don't get yourself burned to a crisp during the intense noonday heat. Buy a beach umbrella—even if you're miles from the ocean—and prop it up in the backyard. The baby can play under it, and you can lurk in its shade and regulate your sun tan.

If you can find any place to swim—a two by four pond is better than nothing—get in for a daily dip. You'll be cool for hours afterward, though the thermometer stays up. And if there just isn't any body of water around, rig up the garden hose, and let everybody get under it in their bathing suits.

The summer was made for picnics. Often the supper hour is the best time for them—it's cooler. If your children are old enough, let them take turns planning the menu. The sandwich diet may wear after a time, but you can always take hot soup along in a thermos, salads may be made at home and transported in a deep bowl, and supper cooked outdoors is the best of all—if fire wardens don't object.

If you're lucky enough to have a gardener for a husband, part of the summer vacation problem is already solved. There's something about grubbing in the soil that calms the jagged nerves of a tired business man.

Probably he'll like to putter around in it a bit before dinner. If you can delay the dinner hour—though it means feeding the children separately in advance—do it. You'll feel more like eating when the sun has gone down.

It will be a vacation for mother to stay away from the gas stove. She can substitute brainwork for handwork, and thing up easily prepared, easily digested meals. She'll find the manufacturers of prepared foods a great help.

They will plan outings that cost little more than the sandwiches. And even if it's a long, hot summer, they'll have fun.

Summer is a grand sports time. You can't afford to join a golf club? It costs money to play tennis? Well, it doesn't cost

Hussey Tribute Paid by Board

A resolution was adopted by the Board of Education Friday evening on the death of Miss Mary E. Hussey, who for over 50 years was a teacher in the Kingston school system. Offered by the members of the Teachers' Committee, the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Commending the services of Miss Hussey, the resolution follows:

Again we note the passing of one of our faithful, conscientious teachers, Miss Mary E. Hussey. Miss Hussey served the city of Kingston as a teacher for over 50 years—27 years were associated with Kingston Academy. When the new high school was opened in 1915, Miss Hussey was assigned to the English department in which field she rendered efficient service until the time of her death.

During this long period of years, Miss Hussey never lost her interest and confidence in young people—always inspiring her pupils with the highest ideals of character and of life.

W.C.T.U. Held Annual Institute Last Wednesday

The fifty-eighth annual institute of the Ulster County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in the First Baptist Church, Kingston, on Wednesday of this week, with morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The president, Mrs. Emma G. Carpenter, presided. The morning session was taken up with the devotional service, greetings, responses and discussion of ways and means of making the work more effective.

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, state president, was present and gave many helpful suggestions for furthering the work. In her usual happy and understanding way, she was the very keen and clear presentation of "The Relation of Alcohol to Syphilis," by Dr. Henry W. Keator, of this city. So well was the subject presented that Dr. Keator has been honored with an invitation by the state W.C.T.U. president, Dr. Colvin, to attend the state convention to be held in Poughkeepsie this fall, and to speak on the same subject. Mrs. Dorothea Groves, delighted the audience with a group of solo, which she sang artistically. She was accompanied by Harold Canfield, pianist.

The ladies of the entertaining church served a delicious supper at six o'clock, and after the social hour that followed the evening program was presented. The motion picture, directed by Charles Brandt, glorified the audience with their instrumental number, and were enjoyed. Harold E. Brigham sang with deep feeling three greatly beloved spirituals. He was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Lester Decker. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, and her address was a very forceful one on the growing need of doing something about the liquor traffic. "In saloon days," she said, "a woman was permitted to serve as a barmaid; now more than one hundred girls are serving liquor. Repeat promised abolition of bootleg liquor; now just as much bootleg as legal liquor is being distributed. Enough liquor has been stored away to last eight years, were all production to cease now. When the government was limiting the production of wheat, hops, cotton, etc., the manufacture of liquor went on just the same. Character-destruction is going on steadily. The consumption of milk has been reduced greatly since repeal. The first year of repeal saw 37 million quarts less consumed; the second year it dropped 59,000,000 quarts; and the third year 69,000,000 quarts. A Consumer's Council national milk survey, conducted with the help of women of 59 cities, disclosed that the milk consumption rate in most of these cities has been below a healthy normal for the years since repeal, while, in the same areas, during the same period, beer consumption has been steadily rising. This has been true even in Westchester county. There is needed a steady increase of knowledge as to the destructive nature of alcohol, on the part of parents as well as of children. This is one of the greatest problems before the church, to be solved for the good of home and country and church."

Vocational School Gets Approval

Michael School building was approved and that the room plan was now in place and the center portion of the roof completed. Concrete has been laid in the lower and upper corridors, and the contract in general is progressing in good shape. Work on the gym floor will be commenced shortly. Toilet and Hallway submitted plans for electrical work necessary for the installation of the dental clinic in the new building. At present this is housed in the municipal building but it is planned to take a portion of the nurses' and doctors' suite in the Myron J. Michael school and establish the clinic there. In order to install electrical equipment some extra conduit not originally planned will be needed. Hingle & Son, who have the electrical job, were awarded the extra work at a cost of $29. Mr. Feeney reported the chimney at the new building was completed and the various subcontractors were carrying on their work.

A resolution adopted at a former meeting to purchase six fire extinguishers at a cost of $4.75 was rescinded and the board voted to stick bids and ascertain whether this was the best possible price. The insurance committee which is making a study of the school insurance problem has recommended to the board the installation of this equipment so as to warrant a lower rate and also as a protection against possible fire-up on the schools through fire and also as an additional protection to students. Before making its report and recommendations the committee composed of Messrs. Van Valkenburgh, Carey and Pardee sought approval of the installation of the extinguishers since the underwriters have quoted a lower premium rate if the equipment is placed. The supplies committee was authorized to seek bids on the extinguishers and award the contract at a cost not to exceed $6.75 per extinguisher and to notify the insurance committee when the purchase is made.

Building and Repair Plan For City Schools Submitted

Until the new Myron J. Michael School now under construction is completed and the shift from the grade schools of students has been made the local Board of Education will defer the making of any extensive alterations to grade school buildings. This was recommended by Trustee Feeney, chairman of the building committee, to the board Friday evening. Until the new school is operating and it is definitely determined just how much relief will be given the grade school buildings it was considered unwise to go ahead with any extensive alterations at this time. After the change over is made it may be that additional rooms in some of the grade schools will be provided and a new set up in such schools will be necessary.

The matter came up when Mr. Feeney, chairman of the building committee, made the annual recommendations to the board for work to be done this summer during the time schools are closed. As a result the cost of repairs and replacements which was over $25,000 last year will be cut to approximately one third that amount this year.

Trustee Hutton after hearing the report of the committee as to work required expressed his opinion that all possible work, not absolutely required to keep the schools in good condition, be deferred at this time because of the economic condition and also because of the increase which of necessity must come in the school budget because of the new school construction. He said that the country was in a depression and many people found it hard to meet mounting tax costs and his suggestion was that as many of the non-recurring items be eliminated this year and deferred until there was less financial recession and people better able to meet the tax burden.

Among the items which he said might be deferred at this time were some of the permanent improvements which the committee suggested as needed to bring the school property up to par. One of these was the laying of concrete walks at some properties to replace poor flag stones, the laying of additional black-stone basketball courts at schools, the ventilation of the high school auditorium and the installation of stage lighting. All of these items he said were desirable and should be done when conditions warranted but he felt that under present conditions to defer this work would not impair or endanger the buildings.

"We have gone along several years, and while the condition is not satisfactory, I believe the ventilation project at the high school auditorium and the stage lighting might be deferred," said Mr. Hutton in pointing out some of the items which he said might go over at the present just a little time longer in order to give the taxpayers a chance. Such items as covers over fire escapes he said were needed but since they had not been placed before he believed they might go along as conditions now are for a year or so more to keep the budget down.

In reply Mr. Feeney said that many of the recommendations made by the committee could be and probably would be eliminated by the board but the committee after making its annual tour of the schools had found certain conditions and made certain recommendations as to work needed. While this work was needed and should be done at some time, it was up to the board to say what should be done at the present time. While the list of items seemed large, the total cost was comparatively small except for a few of the major items on which bids could be solicited and if the cost seemed excessive they could then be deferred.

Report on Inventory. The building committee felt that the recommendations were more of an inventory of work needed rather than a demand that the work now be done.

It was pointed out that some of the work suggested had now been deferred as long as possible and some must now be done.

After a lengthy discussion Trustee Cragin moved that the report of the committee be accepted and the committee was authorized to get bids on the larger items by the next meeting date and estimates on the smaller items so that an idea of the cost of the recommended work might be given the board for further action.

Trustee Cragin commended Trustee Hutton on his idea of economy at this time and said the board should be careful on expenditures this year.

Recommendations made by the building committee for betterments and improvements at schools this summer, many of the jobs to be done by the school mechanic or under his supervision, were:

No. 2, new or repaint blackboards, fire tower on West Chestnut street side of building, teachers' room to be made from storage space, paint flag pole, plant shrubs and trees about grounds, repair steps from assembly room.

No. 3, "Black-stone" from curb to building on side of school where flags were removed for use on Newkirk avenue side of building, repair roof and cornice, install electric hot plate in hallway, new blackboards or repaint old ones, repair floor, paint flag pole, construct basketball court, make repairs in cellar.

No. 4, paint front entrance and doors, new doors, cover fire-escape, place fire door in boiler room, new boards, plant shrubs, paint basement as WPA project.

No. 5, paint flag pole, new boards, court for basketball, new doors on side entrance, extend drain in rear of school.

No. 6, remove dead tree, paint doors and windows, tread on iron steps repaired, panic bolt on three doors, erect fire escape from second floor.

No. 7, paint, cover fire escape, repair flooring, remove lavatory from lunch room, new boards, repair walk on Crown street side.

No. 8, touch up paint in one room, paint flag pole, new boards, repair walks and replace walk on Prospect street side.

High School, ventilation of auditorium by restoring duct cut off during alterations, paint one room, repair roof, repair or rebuild four entrances on sides and change guard rail, construct walk on northerly side of girls' entrance from street to the present walk at the front circle and also construct walk on boys' side, repair water table joints in vocational training building and paint sash in same building, complete lights in auditorium.

Many of these items were small and the work could be done by the school mechanic or under his direction. It was stated that installation of the panic bolts at all schools. The new walk on the south entrance to the high school it was explained would eliminate a distinct hazard at the entrance where the girls enter by permitting the girls to keep on the north side of the drive which is used by many buses when school is dismissed. A walk on the uptown side of the entrance would enter through the present iron gate and extend to the circle where it would join the existing walk and make it unnecessary for the students to cross the drive when they alighted from buses or came from the uptown section. This condition has been called to the attention of the board by police on traffic duty at the point.

In order to balance up the property a similar walk should be placed at the upper entrance where the boys enter.

Mr. Feeney said the entire cost of the recommended items would not exceed $10,000 but some of them could probably be eliminated.

President Schmidt called attention to the condition of the side entrances at the high school. At a recent concert a man fell. The steps are in bad condition on the boys' side and the guard rails he said were set so far back that they were practically useless as a safeguard. To move the rails would be an expensive proposition and later the steps would have to be rebuilt, especially on the northerly side of the building.

Work to be done this summer under recommendation of the building committee will be taken up at the next meeting after estimates have been secured.
